

Does your pet receive medication by injection?

Be sure to bring your used Sharps to the right place for safe and legal disposal.

Unable to accept controlled substances.

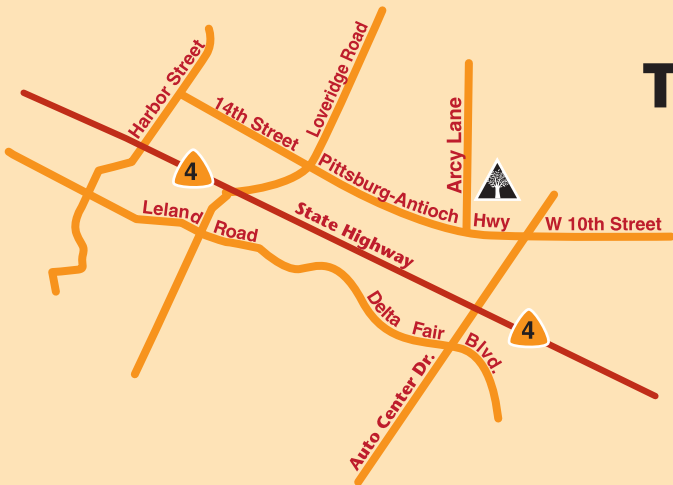

Illegally discarded sharps contaminate the environment and can pose health risks.

Never dispose of syringes, needles or lancets (aka Sharps) used in the medical treatment of animals or people in the trash or flush them down the toilet.

State law requires they be placed in an approved red bio-hazard container for transport to and management by approved hazardous waste facilities, such as the Delta Household Hazardous Waste Collection Facility.

Contact the Delta Household Hazardous Waste Collection Facility to request a FREE Home Sharps Container by mail.
